

Linda Stonestreet Artistic Statement

I love nature. Its colors and forms create natural works of art every day. I take a part of that natural world and study it, meditate on it, reduce it to its fundamentals and then place that essence on a canvas. Abstract art to me is using color and form to show not only that essence but also the human reaction, the emotion that we feel.

I love nature. Its colors and forms create natural works of art every day. I take a part of that natural world and study it, meditate on it, reduce it to its fundamentals and then place that essence on a canvas. Abstract art to me is using color and form to show not only that essence but also the human reaction, the emotion that we feel.

Click here to contact Linda Stonestreet.